Delaware Counsel Group Lawyer Participates in Corporate Counsel Roundtable Addressing Alternative Billing Issues

Ellisa Opstbaum Habbart, a founding partner with the law firm of The Delaware Counsel Group LLP, participated in a recent Delaware State Bar Association (“DSBA”) panel discussing alternative billing arrangements. Fellow participants included Tom Sager, General Counsel, DuPont; Rosemary Goodier, Vice President-Wealth Advisory Services, Wilmington Trust; and Michael Rettig, Deputy General Counsel, Hercules. Presented by the Corporate Counsel Section of the DSBA, the panel addressed the increasing demand for alternative billing arrangements, what alternative billing practices have worked and the responses by outside law firms and in house counsel. For more information about the DSBA and the Corporate Counsel Section, please visit <http://www.dsba.org>.

Ms. Habbart has provided transactional counseling on national and international matters to attorneys (both in house and in private practice) and senior level management (including CEOs, CFOs, general partners, boards of directors, managers and trustees) on Delaware law issues for 20 years. She can be reached at (302) 576-9600 Ext. 12 or ehabbart@delawarecounselgroup.com.

The Delaware Counsel Group advises clients worldwide on Delaware corporate and alternative entity transactions.
